May 2018 Newsletter

Theme: Play

From Reverend Tom Capo

I am very excited about what we are starting in September of this year. We will begin Whole Church Ministry! What the heck is that? Well each month, the whole church, all the groups, all the committees, the worship team, and religious education will explore a theme together. And we will have resources for all the chalice circles, the covenant groups, the spiritual direction groups, the conscious aging group, the men's group, all the groups in the church to use to explore a single theme. There will be resources for families to take home to use to explore the theme. And there will be a piece of art representing the theme in the church each month. There will be no doubt that someone, visitor or friend or member, coming into our church will know what theme we are exploring. There will be questions offered each week to consider about the theme. We, together, as a church will deeply engage each theme, young and old, every demographic of the church will have an opportunity to reflect on the theme; there is intentional thought of full inclusion (ages, beliefs, ability...) for all programming; support material and content available for all programming in the church. Mary Law, our Congregational Life Coordinator, and Steve Cooper, our Director of Religious Education, and I have been busy looking at content, working on strategy, and sharing our vision with committees and groups within the church. We will start engaging various components over the summer and kick it off officially the first Sunday in September.

If you would like to know more about Whole Church Ministry or want to know how you can help please reach out to me, Mary Law or Steve Cooper. The Water Communion will be August 26, so remember to gather water from your meaningful experiences this summer. Then on September 2nd, together we begin this journey of Whole Church Ministry together.

~Blessings, Reverend Tom

Playfulness by Reverend Tom Capo and Gemma Guenther, Ministerial Intern

When was the last time you really played? Unstructured, spontaneous, improvised play? Most of us don't make the time for this in our lives, unless we have small children. During the service, Rev. Tom and Gemma will provide some opportunities for you to play and will also share their thoughts about what play is and how it can be useful on your spiritual and ethical journey through life. Bob Bahrey, John Brubaker & Carolyn Atkin will be performing PDQ Bach. There will be Joys and Concerns during this service.

Flower Communion by Reverend Tom Capo

The Flower Communion is an annual uniquely Unitarian Universalist ritual that celebrates beauty, human uniqueness, diversity, and community. Originally created in 1923 by Unitarian minister Norbert Capek of Prague, Czechoslovakia, the Flower Ceremony was introduced to the United States by Rev. Maya Capek, Norbert's widow. In this ceremony, everyone in the congregation brings a flower. The congregation and minister bless the flowers, and they're redistributed. Each person brings home a different flower than the one they brought. Remember to bring flowers for the service. The DUUC Choir will be performing. There will not be a time in the service to share Joys and Concerns.

Our Special Collection will benefit National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) DuPage. NAMI DuPage provides support, advocacy and education in order to improve the quality of life of individuals with mental illnesses and their families. Checks can be made payable to DUUC, with NAMI noted on the memo line. Thank you for giving generously! www.namidupage.org

Like Prairie Wind and Sunsets

By Gemma Guenther, Ministerial Intern, and Rev Tom Capo

(From Gemma) This year, I have spent time reflecting on life through the practice of spiritual journaling. Included are tales of gratitude, mishap and other adventures as I navigated the world and our faith community.

I want to share my appreciation for all that this congregation has meant to me. We will also explore the practice of meditative journaling, or writing/drawing a spiritual geography.

This is my last service as the ministerial intern here at DUUC. Love and peace, Gemma

There will be Joys and Concerns during this service.

A Forum will not be held this day.

From the Director of Religious Education, Steve Cooper

You may have started to hear some buzz around the church about "Whole Church Ministry". This is a new initiative that Rev. Tom, Mary Law and I are pursuing to engage all of the demographics of the congregation into one ministry that builds a connected and missional community. The staff will lead a program designed to build Whole Church Ministry. This initiative will use monthly themes throughout the church for faith development, outreach and interconnections. We will be working with leadership at all levels to intentionally consider inclusion throughout congregational activities.

So, what does this mean for you? And what does it look like?

Think of a church where the whole community will be deeply engaging with the same message; there is intentional thought of full inclusion (ages, beliefs, ability...) for all programming; support material and content available for all programming in the church; monthly themes and weekly topics that everyone hears and experiences; weekly resources provided for parents to bring church home; experiential social justice for all ages.

When is this happening?

Rev. Tom, Mary and I have been busy looking at content, working on strategy, and sharing our vision with committees and groups within the church. We will start engaging various components over the summer and kick it off officially the first Sunday in September.

If you would like to know more about Whole Church Ministry or want to know how you can help please reach out to Rev. Tom, Mary Law or me.

See you next Sunday!

Steve Cooper

From Congregational Life Coordinator, Mary Law

A friend of mine has been raving about a resource that their fellowship has been using for a few years. Frankly, I've been a little jealous. So, during a staff meeting, when the topic of potentially using this particular resource in creating our own Whole Church Ministry, I don't think I let the other person finish talking about it before agreeing that it would be a great thing to do here at DUUC.

By now, you have probably already read what both

Reverend Tom and Steve wrote about Whole Church Ministry. I'll tell you what I'm excited about.

I'm excited that when Reverend Tom, Steve and I held a meeting with several of you, there was excitement. I'm excited that the Small Group resources will tie in with the monthly theme.

I'm excited that our whole congregation working together on each month's theme.

I'm excited that each week, all members of your family will be able to have conversations about the same topic that was discussed at church that day.

I'm excited that the resources we will get also include a social media piece that we can use to help with marketing.

Can you tell I'm excited? I hope you are too.

Meditation or Prayer

Reverend Tom offers you this forceful responsive reading from Unitarian Universalist seminarian Tori Jameson with help from other UUs Tori Jameson Earl Rogers, Kevin Mann, and Cyn Burnelle:

Leader: May the force be with you!

Congregation: And also with you!

L: Lift up your lightsabers

C: We lift them up to the Rebellion

L: We cast away the spirit of Jar-Jar, bringer of mindless chatter and unnecessary anecdotes. We call forth the spirit of Obi-wan Kenobi, patient teacher and speaker of riddles.

C: Come, spirit of Obi-wan Kenobi, come.

L: We call forth the spirit of Yoda, ancient teacher of wisdom.

C: Come, spirit of Yoda, come.

L: We call forth the spirit of Padme, strong and fierce leader of nations, and mother.

C: Come, spirit of Padme, come.

L: We call forth the spirit of Han Solo, determined friend and defier of odds.

C: Come, spirit of Han Solo, come.

L: We call forth the spirit of R2-D2, humble in service and great of heart.

C: Come, spirit of R2-D2, come.

L: The force is truly with us. In a sign of community and mutuality, let us share a sign of the force with one another.

Forget not that the earth delights to feel your bare feet and the winds long to play with your hair. -Khalil Gibran, Lebanese American writer and poet

With hearts full of gratitude for all who contributed to make the dream of this memorial bench a reality, the family of Robin Sprietsma, invites each person to sit on this bench for a moment of reflection and appreciation of the gift of life. Sitting on this bench under the newly leafing ginkgo tree (planted in memory of Richard Sprietsma) reminds us that each winter is followed by a blossoming of new life, that the grief of loss gives way to restorative treasured memories.

JUST VIEWS

Friday, May 11, 2018 at 7:20 pm: The Business of Doing Good.

Rescheduled from February due to weather cancellation

Providing disaster relief, fighting poverty and promoting development in "Third World" countries have been key roles played by the USA and other "First World" countries of the West. Tonight's film examines how the global aid system has become a wide-ranging, multi-billion dollar constellation of enterprises – spanning US agricultural inputs, clean water facilities / sales, dam and other huge corporate construction contracts, bulk shipments of used apparel, international adoptions . . . This probing documentary uses a case studies approach and is based on over 200 interviews in over 20 countries. Winner of dozens of international film festival honors, it reveals that results have been mixed, and in some cases catastrophic for recipient peoples. Some places in Africa are said to be "held captive by the donor community". Leaders in the developing world are growing increasingly vocal in calling for change. Part of the fix is a shift to a partnering approach -- supporting people in disadvantaged areas to do for themselves. Following the viewing, the audience will critique and explore all of these issues with our invited experienced resource panelist, Paul LeFort. We'll also learn about some innovative domestic as well as international initiatives. Bring your inquiring mind and, if you choose, bring friends too. Questions? Please call Just Views Director Stephanie Hughes at 630-420-4233 or Associate Director Carol Tritschler at 630-961-0106.
